Dear Sir or Madam,

The purpose of this letter is to express my interest in obtaining a Area Sales Manager position at Thermi in the Boston, MA area.

I believe that the most compelling career opportunities may be found at the intersection between an applicant's professional and educational experiences, and the skill set that an organization is seeking. Consequently, I believe my previous employment as a member of the Phoenix Suns' sales team, Client Service Specialist role at First Republic Bank, Account Executive role in Partnership Activation at Concierge Live, Pharmaceutical Sales Representative role at Full Circle Health, CNPR certification from the National Association of Pharmaceuticals Sales Representatives program, and academic background as a graduate of the Eller College of Management at the University of Arizona where I am an active admissions interviewer sets me apart amongst the competition.

My experience has given me a chance to learn to meet goals, lead teams, and solve problems using data, in many different contexts. My passion for effective communication, personal growth, and respectful teamwork all enable my ability to make an invaluable contribution to the goals set. I am an extremely personable and results-oriented team player, in any organization of which I am a part. I am tenacious, and not quick to give up in challenging situations.

Please find my resume, attached, for the details of my work and educational experience. I would be thrilled to have a chance to talk, virtually or in person, about how I could contribute to the team.

Sincerely,

Mitchell A. Nagel
